Company profile

IAI industrial systems has been a supplier to the security printing market since 1995. Some of the largest countries in the world have chosen IAI as their preferred partner to help them create passports, identity cards and banknotes with the most advanced security features. Many leading governments, technology partners and enterprises around the world entrust their challenging projects with us because they value the reliability, accountability and responsibility we deliver. From new levels of protection and productivity for passports and identity cards to novel manufacturing processes and technologies that pave the way to new breakthroughs. We have built our reputation on developing and manufacturing unique systems, which include laser applications, inkjet printing and product handling. Characteristics of our markets are international, business-to-business, investment goods and long-term relations. IAI industrial systems is part of HID Global, which is a subsidiary of ASSA ABLOY.

Career

Our company is committed to finding the best and brightest talent to help us reach the top. If you are a dynamic, highly skilled professional and you enjoy working in a rapid pace within a rapidly growing business environment, then you will want to consider working at IAI. If you excel at both verbal and written communication, collaboration and unrelenting innovation, we want to talk to you. If you bring passion, flexibility and respect to the table, you just might be the right fit for our team. We offer our employees international career opportunities and the possibility to travel for work. Being part of IAI means that you work in small multidisciplinary teams, which ensures that you are involved in the complete process from Sales to Engineering, Operations and Service.

Mission and values

We are a reliable partner which offers innovative solutions for security documents through knowledge, flexibility and passion! We stand for trust, innovation, flexibility, respect, pride, engagement and passion.

Empowerment: we have trust in people

Innovation: we have the courage to change

Integrity: we stand up for what's right

Informal atmosphere: while visiting IAI, you most definitely will recognize our informal work atmosphere, open culture, respectful interaction among colleagues and flat structure.

Celebrate successes: our milestones are celebrated with a company wide treat, since we achieve these milestones together. When ordering a food truck on the parking lot, our whole team enjoys their french fries together.

Supportive culture: the whole team is equally important and everyone is taken seriously. Trust is given to employees and mistakes can be made – at least if you learn from those mistakes.
